

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Ilse Abshagen Leitinger

Introduction. The Costa Rican Women's Movement and Costa Rican
Feminism in the Early 1990s: Multiple, Dynamic, Action-Oriented xi

I • The Varying Faces of the Costa Rican Women's Movement and Costa Rican Feminism 1

1 • Yadira Calvo Fajardo

Different Times, Women, Visions: The Deep Roots of Costa Rican
Feminism 5

2 • Rosalía Camacho, Alda Facio Montejo, and Ligia Martín

The Group Ventana: An Assessment 13

3 • Ana Carcedo, Montserrat Sagot, and Marta Trejos

Improving the Quality of Women's Daily Lives: Costa Rica's Centro
Feminista de Información y Acción 19

4 • Ana Hernández

The Alianza de Mujeres Costarricenses, a Popular Movement:
An Impassioned Plea for Action-Oriented Feminism 24

5 • Carmen Naranjo Coto

Women's Liberation from Servitude and Overprotection 29

II • Making Women Visible in Costa Rican History 35

6 • Cora Ferro Calabrese and Ana María Quirós Rojas

Women in Colonial Costa Rica: A Significant Presence 39

- 7 • Clotilde Obregón Quesada
 Contradictory Aspects of Costa Rican Women's History During the Nineteenth Century 52
- 8 • Sara Sharratt
 The Suffragist Movement in Costa Rica, 1889–1949: Centennial of Democracy? 61
- 9 • Ana Isabel Gamboa Hernández and Sara Gurfinkiel Hermann
 Unusual Costa Rican Women: Three Who Were Proclaimed
 "Distinguished Citizens of the Nation" 84
- 10 • Zaira Escamilla Gutiérrez and Lorena Vargas Mora
 Peasant Women's Autobiographies: Women's Double Contribution to the Rural Economy 89
- III • The Quest for Women's Equality 99
- 11 • Tatiana Soto Cabrera
 The Law and Women's Lives: Contradictions and Struggles 103
- 12 • Aixa Ansorena Montero
 Negotiating Women's Legal Equality: Four Versions of a Law 111
- 13 • Ana Elena Badilla Gómez
 Leading Arguments Against Women's Legal Equality: Highlights of a National Debate 119
- 14 • Alda Facio Montejo
 Redefining Political Equality: More Than Including Women 127
- IV • Women Suffering Discrimination 137
- 15 • Eugenia López-Casas
 Women Heads of Household in Costa Rica's Limón Province:
 The Effects of Class Modified by Race and Gender 141
- 16 • Paquita Cruz
 The Lesbian Feminist Group Las Entendidas 147

- 17 • Paula Antezana Rimassa
 Women with Disabilities: Between Sexism and Handicappism 153
- 18 • Ana Carcedo
 Never to Cry Alone Again: Women and Violence in Costa Rica 160
- 19 • Gioconda Batres Méndez
 Father-Daughter Incest: Case Studies in Costa Rica 170
- V • Women's Organizations and Organizations Working with Women 181
- 20 • Jessica Brown, Cynthia K. Green, Linda Pearl, and Vilma Pérez
 Peace Corps Volunteers See Working-Class Women's Realities 185
- 21 • Mireya Jiménez Guerra
 Women as Leaders in the Costa Rican Cooperative Movement 192
- 22 • Montserrat Sagot
 The Struggle for Housing in Costa Rica: The Transformation of Women into Political Actors 198
- 23 • Ilse Abshagen Leitinger
 Long-Term Survival of a Costa Rican Women's Crafts Cooperative: Approaches to Problems of Rapid Growth at CASEM in the Santa Elena-Monteverde Region 210
- 24 • Laura Guzmán Stein
 Reconceptualizing the Theory of Women in Organizations: Contributions of Feminist Analysis 234
- VI • The Women's Movement and Feminism in the Arts 245
- 25 • Sally R. Felton
 Feminist Visions: Four Women Artists in Costa Rica 248
- 26 • Sandra Castro Paniagua and Luisa Gonçalves
 Women and Love: Myths and Stereotypes in Popular Songs Broadcast in Costa Rica 262

- 27 • Sonia de la Cruz Malavassi
Yadira Calvo: Costa Rican Feminist Writer par Excellence 269
- VII • The Constantly Evolving Status of Women's Studies 277
- 28 • Cora Ferro Calabrese
From CIEM to IEM: The Consolidation of Women's Studies at the Universidad Nacional 282
- 29 • Laura Guzmán Stein
Gender Studies at the Universidad de Costa Rica 287
- 30 • Helga Jiménez
CSUCA's Approach to Women's Studies and Its Projected Program in Central America 293
- 31 • Mafalda Sibille Martina
Timely, Relevant, Trustworthy, Precise, Ongoing: Toward a
Gender-in-Development Information Network 298
- 32 • Matilde López Núñez
Women's Presence in the University: The Case of the Universidad Nacional in Heredia 304
- 33 • Margarita Brenes Fonseca, May Brenes Marín, and Sandra Castro Paniagua
Problems of Joint Interdisciplinary Research in Women's Studies:
An Effort to Integrate Disciplines for More Fruitful Analysis 310
- 34 • Jennifer Kozlow-Rodríguez
The Predictability of Cesarean-Section Births: A Case Study of Students in Costa Rican Childbirth Classes 316
- Ilse Abshagen Leitinger*
Conclusion for an Action-Oriented Research Agenda 334
- Glossary 341
- Index 357