
Contents

Introduction	Feminist Perspectives on Women and Health Sue Wilkinson and Celia Kitzinger	1
Chapter 1	All in Her Mind! Stereotypic Views and the Psychologisation of Women's Illness Ellen M. Goudsmit	7
Chapter 2	Young Women and Safer (Hetero)Sex: Context, Constraints and Strategies Rachel Thomson and Janet Holland	13
Chapter 3	'I'm Not Fat, I'm Pregnant': The Impact of Pregnancy on Fat Women's Body Image Rose Wiles	33
Chapter 4	Reproductive Health and Reproductive Technology Pat Spallone	49
Chapter 5	Waged Work and Well-being Lesley Doyal	65
Chapter 6	What Can She Depend On? Substance Use and Women's Health Elizabeth Ettorre	85
Chapter 7	Surviving by Smoking Hilary Graham	102
Chapter 8	Towards a Feminist Approach to Breast Cancer Sue Wilkinson and Celia Kitzinger	124

Chapter 9	A 'Cure for All Ills'? Constructions of the Menopause and the Chequered Fortunes of Hormone Replacement Therapy Kate Hunt	141
Chapter 10	Widows' Weeds and Women's Needs: The Re-feminisation of Death, Dying and Bereavement Jane Littlewood	166
Chapter 11	Feminist Reflections on the General Medical Council: Recreation and Retention of Male Power Meg Stacey	181
Notes on Contributors		203
Index		205