

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface .....	iii
Part One
DEVELOPMENT OF STATISTICAL CONCEPTS AND METHODS ON WOMEN AND THE INFORMAL SECTOR
INTRODUCTION .....	2
I. CONCEPTS AND DEFINITIONS .....	7
A. Scope of informal economic activity and proposals for defining the informal sector .....	7
B. Informal economic activity within the boundaries of the 1968 United Nations System of National Accounts (SNA) .....	10
1. Characteristics of the productive unit versus characteristics of the function performed .....	10
2. Role of the market .....	11
3. The production boundary .....	13
C. Production in the informal sector .....	13
1. Non-monetary production .....	13
2. Monetary production .....	15
D. Non-monetary production outside SNA .....	19
1. Boundaries .....	21
2. Valuation .....	23
II. SOURCES OF DATA .....	26
A. Population censuses .....	28
B. Economic censuses and surveys .....	30
1. Agricultural .....	30
2. Industrial .....	32
3. Distributive trades and services .....	33
C. Household sample surveys .....	34

CONTENTS (continued)

	Page
1. Demographic characteristics .....	35
2. Income and expenditure .....	36
3. Labour force .....	37
4. Agriculture .....	38
5. Household enterprises .....	39
D. Price statistics .....	39
E. Administrative records .....	40
F. Other sources .....	40
G. Future outlook .....	41
III. METHODS OF CALCULATING WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO DEVELOPMENT IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR .....	42
A. Rural areas .....	44
1. Production for own consumption .....	45
2. Other flows .....	46
B. Urban areas .....	47
C. Outside 1968 SNA concepts but within the extended version .....	50

Part Two

COLLECTION AND COMPILATION OF TIME-USE STATISTICS TO MEASURE
THE PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR

INTRODUCTION .....	56
I. NATIONAL STUDIES IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES .....	56
A. Issues in conducting and using time-use studies in developing countries .....	56
B. Measures of work-hours in the informal sector .....	58
II. NATIONAL STUDIES IN DEVELOPED COUNTRIES .....	63
A. Informal economic activity inside the production boundary of the United Nations System of National Accounts (SNA) .....	64
B. Non-monetary production outside SNA .....	67

CONTENTS (continued)

	Page
Annexes
I. TIME-USE SURVEYS IN 13 COUNTRIES .....	74
II. ILLUSTRATIVE CLASSIFICATIONS OF ACTIVITIES .....	90
A. Nepal .....	90
B. Norway .....	92
Part Three
COLLECTING STATISTICS ON THE PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR: METHODS USED IN LATIN AMERICA
INTRODUCTION AND PRINCIPAL CONCLUSIONS .....	94
I. SPECIAL CHARACTERISTICS OF WOMEN'S WORK .....	97
A. Division of labour by gender .....	97
B. Women in the labour force .....	98
1. Concepts and definitions .....	98
2. Issues in implementation .....	100
C. Women in the informal sector of the economy and their importance in policy planning .....	102
II. INVISIBILITY OF WORK PERFORMED BY WOMEN IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR .....	104
A. Concepts and definitions of the informal sector .....	104
B. Assessment of women's participation in the informal sector .....	105
C. Typology of women's participation in the informal sector - visibility and invisibility .....	107
III. MEASUREMENT OF THE INFORMAL SECTOR USING CENSUSES AND SURVEYS .....	111
A. Population censuses .....	111
1. Measurement of the informal sector with census-based data .....	111
2. Relationship between individual characteristics and household characteristics and construction of household records .....	113
3. Using census data for small geographical areas .....	114
4. Use of the census programme for data collection experiments ....	116

CONTENTS (continued)

	Page
B. Household surveys and the construction of household variables and tabulations for analysis of women's participation in the informal sector .....	117
1. Construction of a household classification and analysis of family income levels .....	117
2. Relationships between women's employment characteristics and family circumstances .....	121
3. Relating characteristics of household members .....	123
4. Estimation of undeclared income of women .....	125
IV. SUGGESTIONS FOR MEASURING WOMEN'S ROLE IN THE INFORMAL SECTOR BY USING HOUSEHOLD SURVEYS .....	128
A. Characteristics of women's role in the informal sector and ways of measuring it .....	128
1. Visible informal sector .....	128
2. Invisible informal sector .....	129
3. Petty trade .....	130
4. Domestic service .....	131
B. Specific suggestions based on experience with household surveys in the region .....	131
C. Difficulties in the measurement of income in household surveys .....	134
Annex. ILLUSTRATIVE MATERIAL ON THE HOUSEHOLD AND INFORMAL SECTORS FROM SELECTED HOUSEHOLD SURVEYS CONDUCTED IN LATIN AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN .....	139

Part Four

MEASURING THE ECONOMIC SITUATION OF WOMEN: AN ALTERNATIVE APPROACH

INTRODUCTION .....	184
I. MEASURING ECONOMIC ACTIVITY .....	186
A. Labour force statistics .....	186
B. Time-use statistics .....	191
C. Comments .....	196

CONTENTS (continued)

	Page
II. MEASURING ECONOMIC WELFARE .....	197
A. Wages .....	197
B. Individual income .....	199
C. Household income and consumption .....	201
D. Comments .....	207
III. COMPARISON OF APPROACHES .....	208
A. Economic activity indicators .....	208
B. Welfare indicators .....	209
C. Direct and indirect measurement .....	211
D. Summary of conclusions .....	215
Annex. EQUIVALENCE FACTORS AND POVERTY RATES .....	216

Tables

1. Distribution of time spent on selected activities, by sex, Botswana, 1974/75 .....	59
2. Time allocation of farmers aged 15 years and over, by sex, Côte d'Ivoire, 1979 .....	60
3. Comparative time-use patterns for men and women aged 15 years and over, six villages in Nepal, 1979 .....	61
4. Time budget of men and women aged 15-69 years, Hungary and Poland .....	65
5. Time budget of men and women aged 15-65 years, Hungary and Finland .....	66
6. Division of labour in households, by sex, Venezuela, 1982 .....	69
7. Time spent in household and market work, selected studies in 12 countries .....	70
8. Basic survey on social life, Japan, 1981 .....	71
9. Occupations of women non-heads of household, by family income groups .....	120

CONTENTS (continued)

Page

Tables (continued)

10.	Employment status of working women 25-44 years, by family situation, Greater Buenos Aires, 1982 .....	122
11.	Working women aged 15 years and over, by sector and relation to head of household, Chile, urban areas, 1984 .....	124
12.	Working women 15 years and over, by sector and employment status of head of household, Chile, urban areas, 1984 .....	124
13.	Income earned by own-account females engaged in marginal activities as a proportion of income earned by own-account working women, Costa Rica, June-October 1983 .....	126
14.	Activity status of the population, Norway and Indonesia .....	188
15.	Distribution of population by activity status, usual activity basis and current activity basis, Botswana, 12 months ending 30 April 1985 .....	190
16.	Use of time by main categories, Norway, 1971/72 and 1980/81 .....	192
17.	Use of time by main categories, Finland, 1979 and Norway, 1980/81 .....	194
18.	Distribution of activity time of adults, by sex and household composition, rural Botswana, 1974/75 .....	195
19.	Women's earnings as a percentage of men's earnings in selected sectors of 17 market-economy countries .....	198
20.	Distribution of individual income in Norway, by sex, 1982 .....	200
21.	Income components in income statistics, Botswana and Norway .....	202
22.	Distribution of disposable household income, Botswana and Norway .....	203
23.	Distribution of income in seven developed countries .....	206
24.	Suitability of various indicators for measuring women's economic welfare .....	207
25.	Low income and deprivation, 1968 and 1981 .....	213