

Table of contents

Foreword	2
I. Introduction	4
What is meant by 'gender'?	5
What is 'gender mainstreaming'?	5
Why is 'gender equality important'?	6
Is gender equality a concern for men?	7
What is a 'best practice' to promote gender equality?	7
II. An overview of best practices	10
-Yemen: Adopting a comprehensive approach to women's Empowerment	12
-Viet Nam : Integrating reproductive health and community Development	14
-Nepal : Awareness campaign through community mobilization	15
-Nicaragua : Responding to women's practical and strategic needs	16
-India : Women as advocates for their own rights	17
-Namibia : Peer education approaches that work	19
-Peru : Creating policy dialogue on women's rights at the national level	20
-Botswana : partnerships to expand options for adolescent girls	21
-Egypt : Putting youth in the driver's seat works	22
-Uganda : A culturally sensitive approach to the eradication of harmful practices	23
-Jamaica : Providing better opportunities for girls	25
-Papua New Guinea : Motivating youth through positive role models	26
-Sri Lanka : Protecting girls and boys from sexual abuse	27
III. Summary of lessons learned	28
IV. Conclusions: Future challenges	30
Annex : Criteria for Best Practices	33
Selected References	36