

SUMMARY

Relevance and meaning within the Brazilian context	7
Population and Development	11
I - Historical tendencies and recent panorama	11
I.1 - The Brazilian demographic transition	13
I.2 - Population structure and dependency ratio	14
I.3 - Spatial distribution of the population	17
I.4 - Brazilian families: composition and new arrangements	19
II - The social, economic and political environment: challenges and conditions.	25
II.1- Patterns of inequality	27
II.2 - Macroeconomic conditions: stability and growth	33
II.3 - Democracy and public policy implementation	34
III - Public policies in population and development, 1995-1998	37
III.1 - Policy monitoring: institutional architecture	39
III.2 - Equity strategies	42
III.2.1 - Poverty reduction	42
III.2.2 - Employment, income and professional qualification policies	47
III.2.3 - Education	52
III.2.4 - Social security and social assistance	56
III.3 - Spatial distribution and international migration policies	62
III.3.1 - The cities	63
III.3.2 - The rural world	65
III.4 - International migration	73
III.5 - Sexual and reproductive health policy	76
III.6 - Progress in the normative plan: changes in the Brazilian legislation	90
Bibliography	99
Abbreviations	104